Notorious Gossip

Then there is the magazine story of grandmother who was bitterly opposed to gambling games—especially poker—but gave her sanction to the playing of authors. So the grandchildren engaged her interests in the game of her choice. Her enthusiasm increased as the game progressed, and while she knew that the cards used were a deck of authors, she didn't know that the game she was playing was poker, and that grandmother was enthusiastically playing Whittiers wild.

Doctor Abrams was called to a barber shop where Sam, the Negro porter, was lying unconscious. Doctor Abrams worked on him for a long time, and finally revived the man.

"How did you happen to drink that stuff?" he asked the patient. "Didn't you see the label on the bottle? It said 'poison'."

Sam—"Yes, doctor, but I didn't believe it."

Doctor Abrams—"Why not?"

Sam—"Because right under that it said 'Lye.'"

Here is a good story apropos the very foggy spell just before Christmas. A man who had dined rather well in the West End, thought it was about time he set about getting home. He lurched up to a taxi standing at the side of the road and asked the driver to drive him to Wimbledon.

"Not on a foggy night like this," was the driver's reply to this request.

"Well—hic—will you drive me for five pounds?" asked the diner-out, holding on desperately to the vehicle for support.

"Nothing less than ten pounds," insisted the jehu.

"Alri—ten pounds," agreed the other.

The driver then asked his passenger to wait for a moment while he went to find a man.

"What'd you want a man for?" "To walk in front, of course."

"Don't bother 'bout that, o' man," replied the fare airily "I'll walk in front!"

SEVERE FROST IN U. S.

Many Accidents And Deaths

New York, Feb. 4.

There have been many accidents in the eastern United States as a result of severe frosts following a drizzle of rain. Streets in scores of cities were ice-coated and were rendered not only unsafe for pedestrians and motor vehicles, but almost impassable.

Traffic has been held up generally. Farmers were obliged to deliver their milk and dairy produce by sledge in many places.

Meanwhile, there is still heavy snow in places. Six trains are stuck deep in snow-drifts in Iowa.

In Illinois the terrible cold snap continues. There have been eight more deaths in that state, Illinois and Indiana.

There is a temperature of 38 degrees below zero at Bemidje, Minnesota, which is the coldest spot in the United States at the moment. However, people in that state are usually prepared for severe cold and deaths are unusual.—Keiser.

REDUCTION IN SPINDLES

Effort To Prevent Trade Losses

London, Feb. 4.

Moving the second reading of the Cotton Spindles Bill, which aims at a considerable reduction in redundant spindles in Great Britain, the cost of which will be paid out of a levy on the remaining spindles. Mr. Walter Runciman, President of the Board of Trade, spoke briefly to-day in the House of Commons.

He explained that the output of the industry was now 61.00, compared with an index figure of 100 in 1921, while the export of piece goods showed an even more alarming drop, the index figure, being 29.00 as against 100 in 1921.

Spindles were now 77 per cent. of the 1921 total.

The Government was prepared to reconsider Clause 15 of the Bill which forbids the installation of new spinning machinery in the first three years after the Bill was passed and also prevents a newcomer entering the industry.

Half the spindles to be wiped out, said Mr. Runciman, were in idle mills or in plants which were not working full time.

According to the poll of the industry, representatives of 28,000,000 spindles favoured the Government's proposals and 11,000,000 disapproved.

Mr. J. R. Clynes, Labour, President of the National Union of General and Municipal Workers, on behalf of the Opposition, opposed the Bill on the ground that it was insufficiently comprehensive.

A Labour amendment for the re-jection of the Bill was defeated 237 to 149, and the Bill passed second reading.—Keiser.

STRIKE CONTINUED

London, Feb. 4.

London is now faced with a meat shortage as a result of the continuance of the Smithfield market strike, which was to-day extended to cold storage workers, thus bringing the number of strikers up to 12,000.

Supplies in some shops were to-day practically exhausted, and tomorrow they will be empty unless the emergency arrangements which are being prepared are effective.

The strikers held another meeting this afternoon, after which an official stated that the position was unaltered.—

DEFENCE OF INDIA

New Delhi, Feb. 4.

In face of opposition, the Legislative Assembly carried a resolution to establish a standing committee of both Houses for consultation on all matters concerning defence.

Mr. G. R. F. Tottenham, Secretary of the Army Department, contended that consultation was impracticable in an emergency, especially when secrecy was necessary concerning the dispatch of troops.—

LIPTON'S TEA HINTS

There is nothing easier than to make tea well—except to make it badly. So here are some hints on how to make the best of it.

BUYING TEA. Tea is the cheapest and most economical drink in the world. From one pound of good tea you can brew as many as 200 cups. And it pays in the long run to buy good tea because it is more economical to use, and the difference between the cost of one cup of poor tea and one cup of good tea is so infinitesimally small as not to matter. But there is all the difference in the flavour and it is the flavour that is really the luxury that everyone can now afford.

STORE TEA IN AN AIR-TIGHT CONTAINER. Tea loses its flavour if it is exposed to the air for long, especially in a moist climate. It ought to be kept in a caddy, or in a glass jar with a screw top, or in clean tin.

USE THE RIGHT KIND OF TEA-POT. Nothing compares with an ordinary brown earthenware tea-pot for making good tea. This should be carefully cleaned, not just rinsed, to remove all stains and dried after use. When cleaning don't forget the spout; a small brush will come in handy for this.

YELLOW LABEL

MEASURE THE QUANTITY OF TEA CAREFULLY. "One teaspoonful per person and one for the pot" is a sound old-fashioned rule that has never been beaten. But if good tea is used there is no need to allow "one for the pot," unless very strong tea is wanted, for good tea is more economical than cheap tea.

USE ONLY FRESHLY BOILED WATER. Take care to warm the pot thoroughly before putting in the tea. Then pour on freshly boiled water—not water that has been allowed to simmer. Better tea will be made if the kettle is kept free from the lime or chalk deposits of hard water.

ALLOW FOUR MINUTES FOR INFUSION. Four freshly boiled water on to the leaves until the tea-pot is full, but don't pour out the tea into cups until you have allowed it to stand for at least four minutes. The lid, of course, should be put back as soon as the water is poured into the pot, and then the whole should be covered with a cloth. Don't forget that tea should never be allowed to "steep" if it is allowed to stand too long tea loses all its virtue and its flavour.

BOUNDARY LINE DEFINED

Kunming (Yunnanfu), Jan. 30.
Colonel Iselin, the Swiss Chairman of the Sino-British Commission for the demarcation of the Yunnan-Burma boundary, has effected a compromise between the Chinese and British members regarding the boundary separating southern Yunnan from Burma, which for over a month has been the subject of discussion.

It is understood that, according to the compromise reached, the boundary line is to start from the 97th boundary post on the northern bank of the Nating Ho (river), south-westwards through the confluence of the Nam Hkwan (river), and the Lu Kiang (river), and northwards along the Nam Hkwan (river).

A number of villages outside the original yellow boundary line, including Nanta and Huhuan, are to revert to China. The members of the Commission will leave for Lufang, from Huhuan, shortly to continue their task. Col. Iselin, Chairman of the Commission, was nominated by the League of Nations.

BASKETBALL TEAM OF CHINA

Proves Itself Good

Shanghai, Jan. 30.
China's Olympic basketball team, composed of talented performers recently selected from various parts of the country, combined for the first time last night into a surprisingly smooth team which took a big lead in the early stages and maintained it to beat the U.S. Marines quintette by 47 to 35. The entire Chinese squad of twenty players was on the floor at some time during the game, while the Marines were represented by only eight players. Those eight Marines put everything they had into the game, but the Chinese were too fast and too accurate for them.

The Chinese five who started the contest were their most impressive members and "Y. T. Wang of Nanking" was the outstanding man on the court as they took the lead at once and proceeded to create the formidable margin of 20 to 5. The speed of their passing attacks seemed to make the Marines slightly dizzy for, while the Marines got possession of the ball, they were prone to make wild passes which went out of the court or were intercepted. Substitutes entered the fray in great numbers and, as substitution progressed, the quality of play exhibited by the Chinese team deteriorated quite rapidly.

The Marines were able to run more smoothly against the less capable opposition and the margin was cut down towards the end of the game, at which point, the first team was sent back on the floor to the cheers of the crowd. As the game ended, the Chinese were again lengthening the margin with Y. T. Wang, N. T. Wong, and T. Y. Mo, taking full control of the situations. It was mostly due to the tireless and able work of Berez and Murphy that the Marines play did not completely fall to pieces.

THE PLAY
The Marines were the first to score when Murphy, after a period of ineffective play by both sides, dribbled under the opposing basket and made his shot good while being fouled. He missed his free throw. The Chinese then went into a series of concerted attacks which were very fruitful and thoroughly delighted the large crowd of spectators. Mo took the ball off the opposing backboard at the top of his leap and tapped it through. A moment later Y. T. Wang scored after some fast passing among his team-mates.

The Marines countered and Murphy was fouled in the act of shooting, but missed both his free throws. The Marines seemed to be taking a temporary nap while Y. T. Wang was scoring twice to build the lead to 8-2. The Marines called time out. Berez sank a free throw, and then the Chinese star, Y. T. Wang, got busy again and with able support scored two more field goals, which raised the tally to 12-3.

Berez was playing with a fierce determination and broke in under the basket to garner two points, but the Chinese team moved smoothly on and, with Mo taking a beauty from the corner which swished through, and that clever guard, N. T. Wong, netting a quick over-head shot, the margin was raised to 20-5.

Murphy was moving around the floor with great speed and working hard, but the Chinese appeared to be individually and collectively the superior quintette. Substitutions were made every few minutes towards the end of the first half and the play became quite even as the opening period ended with the Chinese leading by 23 to 16.

COMBINATION TESTED
In the second half substitutions continued to be plentiful as the Chinese coaches tested various combinations and the ability of all their players. Individually the constantly changing opposition increased the Marines' difficulties somewhat, but the interior quality of the opposition enabled them to better their own score. Murphy, Berez and Blee, scored in succession. Johnson was sent out of the game and Griffin took his place to the advantage of the Marines' cause. Gradually the lead was cut to 35 to 31.

Here the Chinese spectators were cheered by seeing the first team preparing to re-enter the fray and as soon as they took the floor things again became more difficult for the service men. Y. T. Wang, Mo and Y. T. Wang, took turns in scoring and the Chinese team was able to maintain its lead.

COMMUNISTS IN HUNGARY

Secret Police Deal Severe Blow

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).]

Budapest, Feb. 4.
The Budapest Secret Police, which have for some months past been following up repeated indications of increasingly active Communist propaganda, just dealt the Communist organization a severe blow, when raiding its Headquarters and arresting 15 ringleaders.

The result of this haul proved what the police had long suspected, namely that this very extensive Communist campaign was managed by highly trained specialists. Among those arrested was Sigmund Kiss, whose real name is Kleinang, and who is known and sought in Hungary for participation in the Communist Dictatorship in 1920. Kiss was at that time sentenced to jail, but later emigrated to Soviet Russia, and was recently sent back to Hungary by Bela Kun, the Dictator of Hungary in the Soviet Times of 1920. Bela Kun had gone to Moscow, from where he was now conducting the campaign in Hungary.

The leader in Budapest was a well-known and respected chief of the Medical Staff of a Sanatorium, Dr. Emil Well, under the floor of whose house there was found not only large quantities of propaganda pamphlets, but also a complete list of the Communist agents, a number of false passports and large sums in foreign currency.

The police state that frequent council went on between Budapest and Moscow, and that the same organization also conducted military espionage.

Another "It was a lost cause as far as the Marines were concerned when the final whistle sounded, but the Chinese offensive, which was just getting underway, was a different story when they met the Foreign Y.M.C.A. Buccaneers to-morrow night at the Pavilion. The Buccaneers have also beaten the Marines this season, and will be a formidable opponent when they meet the Chinese squad in the final game of the Y.M.C.A. basketball tournament, which will be played on February 17.

STAPLES SURPRISES

THE USES OF SPAGHETTI

SPAGHETTI WITH HAM AND MUSHROOMS

Saute 1 lb. fresh mushrooms, thinly sliced, in 2 tablespoons butter until tender. Add 1 cup thinly sliced, in 2 tablespoons butter until tender. Add 1 cup finely diced. Continue cooking until slightly brown. Add 1-2 oz. can Cooked Spaghetti in Tomato Sauce, and cook until thoroughly heated. Season with salt and pepper to taste. Serve on hot platter and garnish with Ripe Olives.

SPANISH SPAGHETTI

Cook 1 small onion, finely chopped, and 1 small green pepper, finely chopped in 3 tablespoons butter until tender. Add 1 cup finely shredded dried beef and brown slightly. Pour in 1-1 1/2 oz. can Cooked Spaghetti in Tomato Sauce and continue cooking just until spaghetti is heated through. Add a dash of pepper and serve very hot.

CASSEROLE OF MEAT AND SPAGHETTI

Combine 2 cups diced cooked beef, 1 medium onion, finely chopped, and 1 medium green pepper, finely chopped and fry in fat until brown. Season with salt and pepper, then add 1-2 oz. can Cooked Spaghetti in Tomato Sauce, and 1 cup water, and pour into buttered casserole. Sprinkle with buttered crumbled Rice Flakes and bake in a moderate oven (375°F.) until brown (about 20 minutes). Bring directly to the table in the casserole in which it has been baked. Buttered spinach, Sweet Gherkins, and a Waldorf salad will appropriately round out the main course of the dinner in which this dish is served.

APPLE CUPS

(Use 3 times the recipe)
Unbaked pastry
4 cups pared, thinly sliced apples
1 cup sugar
2 slightly beaten eggs
2 tablespoons melted butter
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup evaporated milk diluted with
1 cup water
Line muffin cups with unbaked pastry. Fill with apples. Mix sugar, eggs, butter, lemon juice, cinnamon, nutmeg, and diluted milk thoroughly. Pour mixture over apples. Bake in moderate oven 375 degrees F. 40 minutes or until apples are tender.

EGGNOG

8 eggs yolks
1 cup sugar
8 cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 teaspoon nutmeg
8 egg whites, beaten
Beat yolks, add milk, sugar, salt and vanilla. Beat well. Pour into egg whites, mix lightly. Serve in tall glasses and sprinkle with nutmeg. If desired, 4 tablespoons brandy can be added.
Storing glasses in refrigerator will aid in keeping beverage chilled.

CANDY FOR COLDS

Put one pound of sugar and one gill of water into a pan and stir till the sugar is dissolved. Then add two ounces of butter and boil without stirring till it reaches 280 deg. or snaps when tested in cold water. Add a few drops of aniseed essence, and pour into a buttered tin. This candy is good for colds.

FRUIT CREAM SLICES

Delicious for a party are mince-meat and cream slices.
Roll some puff pastry out very thin, then cut into pieces about 3 1/2 inches long by 1 1/2 inches wide. Cook in a very hot oven for ten minutes.
Turn out on a wire rack, and when cold, spread with mince-meat and a layer of whipped cream. Form into a sandwich and sprinkle with sieved icing sugar.

SURPRISE ROLY-POLY

The children will love a mince-meat roly. Make a suet crust with 4oz. plain flour, 3oz. shredded suet, 2oz. breadcrumbs, a pinch of salt, half a teasp. baking powder, and sufficient cold water to form into a dough.

Roll out and spread liberally with mince-meat. Moisten the edges and roll up, well seal the ends.

Sprinkle a scalded pudding cloth with flour to prevent sticking, or lay the pudding roll first on a piece of greased paper, tie each end with tape, then steam for two hours.

Turn out and serve with custard or a sweetened white sauce.

RICHER PUDDING

If you like a richer pudding, mix a pound of mince-meat with 4oz. flour and a beaten egg. Pour the mixture into a basin, and steam for 2 1/2 hours. Serve with sauce made as follows:—

Cream 2oz. fresh butter and half a cupful of sugar, beating until smooth, then add a beaten egg and a cupful of hot milk, with a few drops of vanilla flavouring or a dessert-spoonful of rum or brandy.

HONEY

It is usually difficult to measure out accurate quantities of honey when cooking, as it sticks badly to the spoon. The simplest and quickest way to avoid this is to dip the spoon for a second in boiling water before using it for measuring purposes. Use at once and the honey will run from the

GINGER DREAMS

(No Eggs)
1 cup fat
1 cup dark brown sugar
1 cup boiling
1 cup boiling water
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 cups cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
Cream fat and sugar. Add rest of ingredients. Chill dough over night or longer. Roll out dough until very thin, cut out cookies, spread with glaze and bake 12 minutes in moderate oven.

GLAZE

1 egg
1 tablespoon milk
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
Beat ingredients 1 minutes. Apply to cookies on pastry brush or cloth tied around a fork.

SPANISH CREAM

1 tablespoon granulated gelatin
1 cup cold water
2 cups milk
1 egg yolk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 egg white, beaten
Soak gelatin in water 5 minutes.

Add to milk which has been heated to boiling point, add yolk and sugar. Mix well and chill until a little thick. Beat and fold in rest of ingredients. Pour into mould which has been rinsed out of cold water. Chill until stiff. Serve plain with cream or custard sauce.

RUSSIAN DRESSING

2 cup cup stiff mayonnaise
1/2 cup cup chives
1 tablespoon catsup
1 tablespoon horseradish
1 chopped olive
1 teaspoon lemon juice
Mix and chill ingredients. Serve on vegetable salad.

Repeat the process, keeping the spoon very hot, until the accurate measure is obtained.

IMPROVEMENT IN KWEICHOW

Better Roads Made

Kweiyang, Jan. 30.
Much has been planned and accomplished by the central and provincial authorities of Kweichow to open up this potentially rich but backward province and to break down the political and economic walls which Kweichow has found itself in. But none has done more towards this end than the Kweiyang-Chungking highway, which was completed and opened to traffic Aug. 1, 1935.

Constructed at a time when the communist-bands ran amuck over various parts of the province, the completion of this road has added a new chapter in the communication development of China's vast southwest, primarily because this is the first time in the history of Kweichow that a route has been opened which links itself up with other neighbouring provinces.

Early hopes, nevertheless, have not fully come true. The lack of long-distance buses combined with the ruggedness of the Kweichow land have made highway travelling along this new road a precarious task.

Covering a distance of roughly 350 kilometers, the Kweiyang-Chungking motor road passes through Hsien, Tsun-yi, Tung-tu, and Sungkan in north Kweichow and Tungchi and Chikiang in east Szechwan. Trains from Kweiyang to Chungking, which usually took about two weeks, has now been shortened to five days. The Kweichow-Chungking Highway is, however, by no means satisfactory to Kweichow and Szechwan travellers. The road surface is too rough and narrow, and is muddy in rainy days, which is hazardous to drivers owing to the mountainous topography. Moreover, long-distance bus service is far from sufficient. The buses are operated without a regular schedule and traffic facilities are poor. If necessary improvements are made, travelling time can even be made shorter.

A GREAT AID
The completion of the highway, however, has not aided the economic development of the province. Contrasting the large tracts of cultivated land in rich Szechwan, the Kweichow section of the highway presents the traveller with a picture of bare mountains, devastated farmlands, and desolate villages, which testifies to the tenacity of the rural depression there.

Another factor which has retarded the economic development of Kweichow is the confused currency situation. So many kinds of paper and copper money are now circulated in Kweichow that their values differ along various sections of the highway. In north Kweichow, for instance, the banknotes and copper notes issued by the local Szechwan banks are acceptable at varied rates.

Such unstable currencies have caused untold sufferings to the Kweichow farmers, who constitute 80 per cent. of the population of that province. To safeguard themselves against further losses, they refuse to accept anything but the banknotes of the Central Bank of China and hard coins. Greater demands result in a scarcity of the "good money" and the Central Bank notes as well as hard coins are now accepted with premium. This represents only a cross-section of the picture of the economic life in districts crossed by the highway. Much, apparently, remains to be done, the first of which is to improve the communication facilities, and the second is to unify the currency in Kweichow and Szechwan.—Central News Agency.

It's EASY to Catch COLD or 'FLU' when TRAVELLING

'ASPRO'

WILL PROTECT YOU

GERMS are no respecters of persons. Wherever you travel you cannot tell the moment you are likely to catch a cold—or even the 'Flu'. The proved protection is 'ASPRO'. At the slightest sign of sneezing—sore throat—feverishness, etc., take 'ASPRO' according to the directions in the packet. Quick relief is assured, because 'ASPRO' expels the body poisons through the pores of the skin, and, therefore, restores one to normal health by eliminating such poisons and not suppressing them. Furthermore, 'ASPRO' is safe, sure and certain—it neither harms the heart nor stomach, and conforms to the standard of purity laid down by the British Pharmacopoeia—the guiding authority of the medical profession.

Dear Sir,
I think ASPRO Tablets for relieving of influenza from my little boy, aged nine, as well as myself, when my wife, who was then as unwell as I am, refused to take them, and finally up to his hospital with double pneumonia. While we were getting colds, but stopped them with ASPRO and nothing else.
My wife is a staunch advocate for their use now, and takes ASPRO at the first sign of a cold. 'Waking ASPRO' and their inventor all the good luck they deserve—I am,
Yours faithfully,

Stubborn Cold Goes—PROOF!

Dear Sir,
You see for your kind interest in directing me to the certain way to effect a cure to the many colds with which I had been battling for three weeks during which time I had tried so many other remedies.
On Tuesday last I carried out your advice to the letter, and I could hardly believe the ease with which my cold left me. I did not think I could get the 'flu' in the habit of doing. Although I have used ASPRO with excellent results in relieving HEADACHES, I have not previously used it so positively and with very much satisfaction. The fact that ASPRO would cure a cold in 24 hours is the best proof I have ever observed, has been mentioned by your initials.

KING'S CONGRATULATION TO MAHARAJAH

Sixty Years A Ruler

London, Jan. 7.
The King Emperor has sent the following message to the Maharajah Gaekwar of Baroda:—
"It gives me much pleasure to convey to your Highness my sincere congratulations on the celebration of the Diamond Jubilee of your accession to the Gadi of Baroda.
"To few Princes is it granted to rule for so long a period of time, and to look back with satisfaction upon 60 years of continued material and moral progress in the lives of their subjects.
"I trust that your Highness may be spared to your State for many years to come and that prosperity and happiness may increasingly attend your rule."

LORD HUNTER, CAPTAIN

London, Jan. 15.
Lord Hunter has been elected captain of the Senior Golfers' Society in succession to Sir John Simon. Lord Hunter is aged 70 and is in his twenty-ninth year as a member of the Scottish Bench. He is Scotland's senior Judge in length of service.
For their game with Highland at Inverness Murray make three changes. Hill stands down in favour of Bowman M. Smith, places Wood and C. B. Wilken comes in for W. W. Carr, Selcraig, and J. Fraser. A. E. Low, W. Allan, J. M. Reid, and W. Stephen J. Wright and G. A. Young. A. Hamilton, J. Fleming, J. Bowman, W. Mitchell, M. Smith, G. B. Currier, G. B. Wilken, and W. Gordon.

B.B.C. TELEVISION PLANS

The B.B.C. hopes to be able to carry out television tests from the Alexandra Palace Station, London, some time in March, and if these are satisfactory to allow the time to be known to the public. It is possible that by June programmes may be sent out during these periods each day.
These and other points in connection with the development of television in this country were mentioned recently at a press conference at Broadcasting House, London. Sir Stephen Tallents, controller of public relations, presided.
Sir Noel Ashbridge, controller of engineering, said that work was going ahead on the adaptation of Alexandra Palace as a television station. The structural alterations were nearly finished, and the erection of the mast—about 300 feet above ground level and 600 feet above sea level—would begin shortly.
There were to be three transmitters, one for each system of television transmission, and a common sound transmitter.
VIEW ROOMS
Mr. Gerald Cock, director of television, said that when the time came for regular programmes these would be divided into three periods of the day, as follows:—
8 p.m.—4 p.m. 6.15 p.m.—7.15 p.m. and 9.30 p.m.—10.30 p.m.
The object was to get the maximum number of people looking at the screens in the view rooms in the early days.
The B.B.C. will have a view room of its own and we hope to get the co-operation of the big stores, radio manufacturers, possibly news theatres in their offices and newspapers.

MISSING STAMP

London, Jan. 13.
Four two-solid treasury stamps will be offered for sale at Harpers, London, this week. Originally there were five of these rare stamps on the same single envelope, and the search for the missing one occupied a well-known collector for many years.
He was Mr. E. F. Broderip, of Madeira, who died recently, and the four stamps to be sold were his property.
Some years ago the envelope, with the original five stamps complete, was stolen, and the thief removed one of them in order to cover up the evidence of their theft.
The aim was not to provide free entertainment, but to let people see television. It was hoped to transmit items of a topical nature, variety and cabaret entertainment, and short films.
At first the different types of programmes would be varied over the three periods so that everyone would be able to see all the types. Later, when television became as normal as sound transmission, certain times of the day would be allotted for particular types of programmes.
Regarding the stipulation that the woman announcer must not be heard, Mr. Cock mentioned that that had been waived all right, but that light red hair tended to come out rather more than was desirable. He said that they did not want to have any more of that kind of thing, and that they would have to have a woman with dark hair and a pleasant voice.

LOCAL LAWYER'S DEATH RECALLED

Tributed By The Court

The great loss sustained by the legal profession of the Colony, was given expression at the Supreme Court on Tuesday when practically all the members of the profession assembled there to pay their respects to the memory of the late Mr. Henry Lardner Denny, who passed away last Saturday.

His Honour Mr. Justice R. E. Lindsell, Acting Chief Justice, presided and expressed sympathy to the widow and relatives in their sad bereavement.

Among those present were: Mr. Justice J. J. Hayden (Acting Puisne Judge), the Hon. Mr. C. G. Alabaster, K.C. (Attorney-General), Messrs. E. H. Williams (Assistant Attorney-General), Eldon Potter, K.C., H. G. Sheldon, K.C., Duncan McNeill, H. C. Macnamara, Hin-shing Lo, Leo D'Almada, jun., Harold Lee, Lo Tung-fan, T. M. Hazledine, T. S. Whyte-Smith, L. R. Andrews, Geo. K. Hall Brutton, F. X. D'Almada, sr., Leo D'Almada, sr., the Hon. Mr. M. R. Lo, Messrs. M. W. Lo, P. M. Hodgson, A. el Aruelli, D. H. Blake, F. E. Nash, C. E. S. Russ, D. L. Sirellet, G. S. Hugh-Jones, C. E. L. Grist, F. H. Loseby, Peter H. Sin, C. Y. Kwan, C. E. R. Sandersen, M. A. da Silva, C. D'Almada, C. E. Lowe, R. H. Cole, F. I. Zimmerman and Sidney Ng Quinn.

SECOND WITHIN A WEEK

Mr. Justice Lindsell said: "Mr. Attorney-General, it is a melancholy thing that this Court should sit for the second time within a week to take notice of the death of a member of the legal profession in this Colony. Mr. Henry Lardner Denny, qualified and was admitted a solicitor of the Supreme Court Judicature in England at the end of 1907 and in February, 1908, was admitted and enrolled to practice in Hong Kong. He joined his father in the firm of Denny and Bowley, the principal partners of which, for many years prior to 1911, were in succession closely connected with this Court in that each in turn accepted the appointment and duties of Crown Solicitor.

"Later, on amalgamation, Mr. Denny became a member of the firm of Hastings, Denny and Bowley, and for the last few years he practised in his own name as Denny and Co. He was thus one of the best known practising solicitors in the Colony. Blessed with a most cheerful and friendly disposition, he used to participate most keenly with many of us in many of our social and sporting activities. I desire therefore to express, on behalf of the Bench, our sense of the great loss sustained by the profession through his death and our profound sympathy with his widow and relatives in their bereavement."

On behalf of the profession, the Hon. Mr. Alabaster said: "May it please your Lordships—On behalf of the Bar, and also, at their request, representing the practising solicitors and officials of this Court, I wish to tender our respectful concurrence and desire to be associated with your Lordships' expression of sympathy. The passing of Mr. Henry Lardner Denny removes from the Roll of this Court a name which, in the persons of father and son, it has borne for the last 62 years and which will be remembered for many years to come."

GEORGE ARLISS IN "CARDINAL RICHELIEU"

All the delicacy, beauty and poignancy of George du Maurier's immortal love story lives again in Paramount's picturization of "Peter Ibbetson" starring Gary Cooper in the title role, scheduled as the coming attraction at the Queen's Theatre.

It is interesting to watch Gary Cooper's fine interpretation of Ibbetson. Cast in a role entirely foreign to any he has attempted, Cooper achieves a memorable characterization, revealing hitherto hidden versatility in his dramatic make-up just as he displayed amazing undiscovered capabilities in the "Bengal Lancer," "Ann Harding" who appears opposite Cooper as the Duchess of Towers also can be accorded highest com-

"SHE"

At The Oriental Theatre

"She" is a tale of high adventure and fierce conflict. Two scientists, following an ancient legend, search an ice-locked country far beyond civilization's last outpost for a flame of life-giving fire. It is a story highly charged with mystery. They find a kingdom of fabulous grandeur, a lush tropical country ruled by a woman of immortal loveliness—a woman two thousand years old who doesn't look a day over thirty.

RKO Radio has brought "She" to the screen, an impressive spectacle that provides a veritable showcase of motion picture magic and wonders. Primarily, however, it is a saga of conflict. There is physical conflict, fierce and thrilling, but the real battles are moral and mental and are waged in the heart and soul of Randolph Scott. He faces a temptation no mortal man has ever been called upon to face. What that temptation is and the exciting events with which it is surrounded are stirringly unfolded in the story of "She."

Helen Gahagan, noted stage and operatic star, makes her screen debut in the title role. Helen Mack and Nigel Bruce appear in other important parts in this Merian C. Cooper production.

"SO RED THE ROSE"

To be Screened With Funeral Scenes

Arrangements have been made for the screening of the film depicting the scenes in connection with the funeral of the late King George the Fifth, at the Queen's Theatre on the 15th, 16th, 17th and 18th of February in conjunction with Paramount's screen version of "So Red The Rose" adapted from Stark Young's romantic best-selling novel.

Bookings are already open and as a heavy demand for seats is anticipated we recommend early reservations.

mentation for her portrayal. Miss Harding brings a warmth of understanding to the tragic, yet pathetic Duchess, doomed to life long separation from her lover.

Laid against the picturesque background in the Victorian period, "Peter Ibbetson" depicts the beautiful love between a man and woman, a love so great that it surmounted every obstacle, even those of life and death.

IT'S IN THE AIR

At The King's Theatre

There is something new under the sun!

And it is now showing at the King's Theatre in the form of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's thrilling laugh-special, "It's In The Air."

For a new angle on screen plots, Jack Benny's latest starring picture can't be beat.

The audience screamed, laughed, cried and cheered at the thrilling stratosphere flight, with Benny and Ted Healy as the novice participants who have to take to the air to escape the long arm of the law for their shady dealings.

Una Merkel, as Benny's wife, shows that she is as adept at dramatic portrayals as comedy. Nat Pendleton, as the dumb "G-Man," had the audience holding their sides. Mary Carlisle was never better than in her characterization of the flapper vamp, while Harvey Stephens and Grant Mitchell turned in sterling performances.

Following on the heels of his first success, "Broadway Melody of 1936," Benny proves that he is one of the screen's top comedians in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer comedy-drama.

ANNAPOLIS FAREWELL

The production of Paramount's "Annapolis Farewell," featuring Sir Guy Standing, Richard Cromwell, Tom Brown, now at the Star Theatre, filmed in the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., entailed one of the most difficult directorial jobs ever faced by a motion picture director. The assignment meant for Alexander Hall thirty days of constant work and on each of these days he found that he had to accomplish just about twice as much work as a director ordinarily encounters in producing a feature film.

Arriving in Baltimore he found that there was an epidemic of scarlet fever in Annapolis and that it would be wise for him to live in Baltimore and commute daily to the Naval Academy. This auto ride each morning and night added two hours to Hall's regular work day and frequently when the road was crowded with traffic the trips required an hour and a half each way. The next bit of bad news was that the entire production unit of 100 players and technicians also would have to live in Baltimore and journey daily to Annapolis in buses, because the scarlet fever scare was still on in Annapolis. In addition every hotel and boarding house in the little city on the Severn River had been reserved by the hundreds of people who were coming to Annapolis for the ceremonies of graduation week. Having his players and workers living in one city and working in another greatly complicated matters for the director.

Hall's problems were further magnified when he found that instead of adhering to his own shooting schedule he would have to alter it so that his work dovetailed into the schedule of events at the academy.

"THE LITTLEST REBEL"

As the sweetheart of the south—and the darling of the north—Shirley Temple is starred in her first big dramatic role in "The Littlest Rebel" the 20th Century Fox picture coming on Saturday to the King's and Alhambra Theatres.

The locale of the picture is old Virginia at the height of the Civil War with Shirley and her parents loyal supporters of the losing Confederacy.

Much of the pathos and tenderness of the picture centres about Shirley and her mother, Karen Morley, who finally succumbs to the hardship of the war.

There are adventures in her scrapes with the Yankees, and a thrilling flight as Shirley's father, John Boles, attempts to smuggle her through the Yankee lines, only to be captured and held as a spy.

The closing sequences are devoted to showing how this dimpled darling manages to win President Lincoln to her cause and saves her father and the Yankee officer who befriended them.

That lovely song, "If All Thy Endearing Young Charms," is sung by Shirley and John Boles in the picture. Another song, "Polly Wolly Doodle," was especially composed for the little star by B. G. De Sylva, associate producer of the picture, and Sidney Clare.

A CORRECTION

The "Littlest Rebel" starring Shirley Temple which was previewed by "Rednecks" in our column yesterday will be shown alternately at the King's and Alhambra Theatres on Saturday and not at the King's Theatre alone as stated in the write-up.

HE WAS HER MAN

An unusually dramatic theme with a strange twist is promised in the Warner Bros. Production "He Was Her Man" opening today at the Queen's Theatre.

James Cagney and Joan Blondell who made their first hit together are again cast in the stellar roles of the picture. Cagney has the part of an ex-saucer who is feeling from the vengeance of a gang he has double-crossed. While Miss Blondell appears in the role of a woman of the streets who is planning to put her past behind her and marry a simple Portuguese fisherman when she becomes infatuated with the polished but crooked Cagney.

Her infatuation comes near bringing about her death, but the unscrupulous Cagney does the one decent thing in his life by seeming to double-cross her and going to his death without involving her.

Victor Jory has the part of the fisherman lover who eventually marries the woman of the street although she informs him of her past history. Frank Craven, noted actor-writer-director has the part of the stool pigeon while Sarah Padden, stage star, plays the role of the mother of the fisher lad.

Most of the action takes part in a colourful fishing village on the Pacific Coast near Monterey.

THREE-POINT POLICY OBJECTION

Peiping, Feb. 4

The Peiping Cultural Society today issued a manifesto objecting to the three-point policy of Mr. Koki Hirota, Japanese Foreign Minister, on the ground that such a policy means the colonisation of China.

"Acceptance of this policy will involve the subjugation not only of the northern provinces but the entire country," the manifesto said.

Mr. Hirota's policy is (1) China's recognition of Manchukuo; (2) Sino-Japanese campaign against the Communists; and (3) an economic alliance between China and Japan.

ESTABLISHMENT OF NEW STATE

Peiping, Feb. 4

A circular telegram announcing the establishment of "Mengkuo" (Mongol Country) was issued at Changpei, capital of the new state on January 27, according to Chinese information reaching Peiping. The telegram appears to have been issued in the name of Prince Teh, by Jodpjak. It was, however, detained by the Chinese Telegram Administration, according to Le Journal de Pekin.

A portion of the telegram is published in the "Asia People's Voice" here this morning. According to this version, Jodpjak explains that "this organisation" is being established to meet the requirements of the circumstances and the desires of the people. It is dated the 78th year after Genghis Khan, which would indicate an error in computation, since Genghis Khan succeeded in uniting Mongolia and establishing supremacy in the 13th century.

sonality with the figure and appearance of a colonel, and was a master of all games and out-door sports.

The year after he came down from Cambridge he nearly broke his neck at a point-to-point meeting. Some years ago he lost an eye shooting.

It is as a great cricketer that Mr. Wright will have a permanent place in the annals of British sport.

OLYMPICThe 1936 Game
Analysed

At a first glance, the hands in the 1936 World Bridge Olympic seem more interesting than those selected in 1935, a number of plays appearing in the bidding and play.

Hand No. 7, analysed by Mr. D. A. Sequeira, presents an enviable opportunity for the use of the approach forcing system as put forward by Mr. Culbertson:—

HAND NO. 7

NORTH
S-A Q 8 8
H-A K 4
D-7 3
C-K 8 5 2

WEST EAST
S-J 10 7 4 3 S-

SUGGESTED PAR—7 No trumps by North/South bid and made.
Suggested bidding:—

South	West	North	East
1 D	Pass	2 S	Pass
3 S	Pass	4 H	Pass
4 NT	Pass	5 NT	Pass
7 NT

If West opens the 4 of Spades, East shows out, and the Spades are continued by finesses from South's hand. Once the Spades have been cleared, the whole play resolves into a triple squeeze of East's hand. If West made any other opening the crux of the whole situation lies in placing the Spades holding with West, for if the Spades were held by East the contract would be impossible of fulfillment.

Bids of 5 No-Trumps and 6 Spades were made by several players. One pair alone bid 7 No-Trumps, played by North, against an opening Heart lead, but he failed contract by one trick owing to the handling of the Spade suit.

Chinese Chamber
Of CommerceMONTHLY MEETING
HELD

The monthly committee meeting of the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce was held at the Chamber's Headquarters yesterday afternoon, when owing to the indisposition of the Chairman, Mr. Wong Kwong Yin, the Vice-Chairman, Mr. Li Sing Kui, took the chair. He was supported by Mr. Au Chak Sum, Hon. Treasurer and Mr. Chan Ping Au, Hon. Secretary.

Other members present were Messrs. Lui Yam Shuen, Mok Kon Sang, Chan Kam Por, Chan Shuen Po, Gook Chin, Tang Chi Cheong, Chow Sing Chi, Wong Mow Lum, Lau King Ching, Yung Koon Man, Lau Yuk Wan, Lam Kow Mow, Mok Lin, Chiu Chiu Fan, Chiu Chan Yue, Kwok Yau Ting, Kwan Wan Pak, Ko Chung Nam, Cheung Ian Chow, Dr. Li Ping Sam and many representatives of the various business associations and guilds.

ENQUIRIES

After the accounts had been passed in the usual manner, the Secretary told the meeting that during the last month, the Chamber had received many letters from the different firms and manufacturers in England, Penang and Shanghai applying for recommendations for reliable local Chinese agents and representatives for their products. He added that replies to the above mentioned requests had already been sent.

CONTRIBUTIONS

With regard to the letter sent to the Chamber by the Macao Chinese General Chamber of Commerce requesting the Chamber to raise the necessary funds for the re-building of the Hall of the Confucian Society, it was decided by the Executive Committee that the Chamber should contribute a sum of $100 to that society, while other subscription lists should be distributed among the committee

OBITUARY

Miss Elizabeth Olsen

The death occurred on Tuesday morning at the Matilda Hospital of Miss Elizabeth Olsen, aged 64 years, who was an American Methodist Missionary. She was a well-known figure in Canton and Singapore for her Missionary activities, and had been looking after her sister in Singapore since April. Her sister, Miss Mary Olsen is also of the American Methodist Mission.

The deceased came to Penang in 1907, after several years' missionary work in San Francisco, and later joined her sister, Miss Mary Olsen, at the American Methodist Mission, Singapore. She carried on missionary work independently at Canton, where she undertook the care of orphan children. She was a quiet worker and no one knew how much she accomplished at Canton, as she was of an unassuming disposition and did not court publicity. She was very much liked by her fellow missionaries in Canton and Hong Kong, and great sympathy is felt for her sister, who is now in Hong Kong, and two other sisters and a brother in San Francisco.

THE FUNERAL

The funeral took place yesterday at the Protestant cemetery, Happy Valley, the Rev. E. C. H. Tribbeck officiating at the Chapel of the Resurrection. The remains were then cremated at Soekunpo. The ashes of the deceased will be sent to San Francisco.

Among those present were her sister, Mary, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Reiton, Mr. and Mrs. Larson, Mr. M. A. Grant, Miss Myers and Mrs. Emslie, all of the Penel Mission, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Broadus and Miss S. Moritz.

Wreaths were sent by her sister, Mary, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Broadus, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Grant, the Penel Missionaries and Sophie Moritz.

NANKING-CANTON
RELATIONSProposals For Compromise

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, Feb. 4.
Negotiations for a Nanking-Canton rapprochement, which had greatly been accelerated by the recent return home from Europe of Mr. Hu Han-min, leader of the South-west political faction, have at last entered upon its final stage following the acceptance in principle by the National Government of the compromise proposals submitted by the South-west Political Council. It was reliably learned here to-day.

In appreciation of the favourable reply from the Nanking Government which was received by the South-western authorities last Thursday, Mr. Hu Han-min is expected to proceed to Nanking shortly accepting the chairmanship of the Central Executive Committee of the Kuomintang, to which he was appointed by the recent meeting of the Party.

The compromise proposals advanced by the Cantonese to the Nanking Government are understood to have included the following points:

First, that the Kuomintang Party should consolidate the spirit under which the Party was originally organized.

Secondly, that administrative rights of the Kuomintang Party be clarified.

Third, that the National Government should establish rigid and uncompromising policies against Japan.

Fourth, that the National Government be reorganized so as to effect a truly powerful Central administration.

Fifth, that principles for non-interference between the Nanking and the Canton regimes be established, and Sixth, a united military defence be secured in the face of foreign invasions.

members of the Chamber, and that contributions be voluntary.
At the conclusion of the meeting, the Secretary announced that during the last few weeks, several new members from the different firms and manufacturers had applied to the Chamber for membership. The applications were passed.

C. P. R. OFFICIAL
ON RETIREMENTPleasing Function
Held

Mr. Percy Cox, Assistant-Oriental Manager of the Canadian Pacific Steamships and Railway, and a popular figure in Oriental shipping circles, left the Colony yesterday on his retirement, after a spell of over 40 years in the East. Mr. Cox is proceeding to England, leisurely via Honolulu, New Zealand and Canada.

Mr. Drummond presided over a pleasant gathering of the C.P.R. staff yesterday when formal good-byes were said and Mr. Cox was given a complete fishing outfit as a parting gift. Mr. Drummond mentioned in his remarks that Mr. Cox's services to the Company and his helpful and kindly treatment of the staff under him would remain a happy memory to them all, and in a wider circle the Far East would miss a refreshing personality.

CHINA
COMPLAINSThe Conduct Of Japan

London, Jan. 10.
The call of the Chinese Ambassador at the Foreign Office was an event of no small consequence. The purpose of Mr. Qiao Tai-chi's visit was to complain of the conduct of Japan, and it is said that similar approaches have been made to the other signatories of the Nine Power Treaty. The complaint of the Nanking Government is that the Japanese are working to separate the five Provinces of Northern China from the rest of the Republic, and are engineering the so-called autonomous movement to that end. The Japanese profess to be indignant at this misleading propaganda "suggesting that they have ulterior motives in North China" or the other hand there is both evidence and likelihood to support the stories of pressure brought upon the Governors and people of the Provinces in question. The armies which have established a Japanese Protectorate in Manchuria and Jehol are said to be massed on the North side of the Great Wall ready to enforce Japanese policy on the other side if need be. Then we have stories that the Japanese Army Commanders are acting without the authority of the Japanese War Office, and that the Military Party are acting contrary to the wishes of the Civil Government. We think it more respectful to Japan to assume that the Japanese are united in their purpose and following out the policy of her Government, and that her policy is to extend her sphere of influence over those great Provinces of the North which contain the sturdiest and manliest people of all China.

TWO GREAT QUESTIONS

Looking at the question broadly, we see two great, encroaching movements upon China—by Soviet Russia in the North-West, and by Japan in the North-East. The U.S.S.R. have established themselves in Outer Mongolia to the utter exclusion of the Chinese, in manifest violation of the Sino-Russian Agreement of May 31, 1924, and the Japanese are following a parallel movement in Jehol. There is move and counter-move and the real struggle may rather be between the two invaders than between the invaders and the invaded. We are reminded of the somewhat similar situation in Southern India in the Eighteenth Century when France and England fought over the outlying provinces of the decadent Mogul Empire.

In those days there was no Nine Power Treaty and no League of Nations to which India could appeal, nor would it have made much difference if there had been. Empire in those times passed from one hand to another with the power to maintain it, a process which nowadays there is a concerted attempt to restrain. Here we need hardly remind the reader that the Chinese Republic invoked the League of Nations in the case of Manchukuo, as she is now invoking the Treaty Powers in the case of Hopei and the rest. In the former case the invocation was a dismal failure, which augurs ill for the present appeal. The governing factors, to be frank about it, are the Army and the Navy of Japan. Thanks to our modern policy of disarmament and our embolism in the Mediterranean we are helpless to interfere. And it is both wise and humane if nothing can be done, not to make the pretence of doing anything.

A WARLIKE EMPIRE

There was a time when China was a warlike Empire, when her conquering armies reached as far west of the Caspian Sea; but neither the arduous, suffering, and losses of those terrible campaigns, nor the abnegating philosophy of Buddhism, or some other intellectual current gradually impregnated the Chinese with the doctrine of pacifism. They came to despise the soldier, and that military science in which they had, once been supreme. They came to think, in fact, exactly as if the League of Nations Union had been busy among them with its integrating propaganda, and so it comes about that a nation of 400 million people is utterly unable to defend itself against a neighbour of 84 million people. Treaties and engagements aside, the fundamental fact is that China, having neglected her own defences, asks the rest of the world to defend her. Being unequal to the task herself, she proposes to rely upon collective security. We greatly regret the position in which she finds herself, the more as it nearly concerns British interests, and possibly British honour. But we incline to agree, nevertheless, with the recent words of Chiang Kai-shek: "China should seek within herself the causes of her suffering and repeated national humiliation." And let us take the lesson of China to heart and exert ourselves in time lest her fate be also ours.

THE FATHER OF TRENT BRIDGE

After a successful school career at Charterhouse, where he played with Mr. C. Aubrey Smith, the actor, he went up to Cambridge in 1882.

He was four years in the Cambridge eleven, and for a decade or so held the record for the number of runs made in the University match. He went in first for Notts, was a close friend of W. G. Grace, and played for Lord Hawke's team in South Africa.

He was also an expert on cricket grounds and was the presiding genius of Trent Bridge. Mr. Wright himself had been its trustee for years.

ROYAL NAVY

Trials Of The Repulse

London, Jan. 11.

The battle-cruiser Repulse was commissioned for trials on Thursday at Portsmouth. Captain J. H. Godfrey, late Deputy Director of Plans, has assumed the command. Since she was paid off into dockyard control on April 1, 1933, the Repulse has been reconstructed and modernized at an estimated cost of £1,377,000, and when ready for sea is expected to proceed to the Mediterranean in accordance with the arrangement announced by the First Lord in March last.

After the Repulse it is the turn of her sister ship the Renown to undergo reconstruction. But at present the Renown is with the Fleet in the Eastern Mediterranean. A sum of £127,700 for starting the alterations in her was included in the 1935 Navy Estimates, but it is uncertain when the work will be begun.

OFFICERS TO SPECIALIZE

The following officers have been selected to undergo the next long torpedo course at the R.N. College, Greenwich, and in the Vernon Torpedo School, Portsmouth, beginning on April 30.—Lieutenants J. Hopkinson, D. V. Garde, J. G. S. Cunningham, P. F. M. Green, D. G. F. Bird, G. P. Kilroy, T. J. G. Marchant, G. V. Corbett, and J. R. Carr.

The following have been selected to undergo the next long navigation course at R.M. Navigation School, Portsmouth:—Lieutenants M. W. G. Webster, H. N. C. Willmott, E. F. S. Back, J. B. Laing, I. L. T. Hogg, G. V. Parmer, J. B. E. Wainwright, W. Whitworth, W. Moresby, J. A. Harper, J. O. C. Hayes, and J. J. S. Yorke.

VISIT TO SIAM

The flotilla leader Duncan, Capt. R. S. Benson, and the destroyer Daring, Commander G. Barnard, are due to leave Singapore on Monday for a visit to Bangkok from January 16 to 22. They will afterwards return to Hong Kong, arriving on January 27. The Diamond, Lieutenant-Comdr. N. L. Dyane, another unit of the 8th Flotilla, will leave Singapore on January 25 for Hong Kong, arriving on January 31.

COMMAND OF THE SCOTSMAN
Lieut.-Comdr. A. E. Buchanan, of the Royal Australian Navy, who has hitherto been staff officer (operations) at the Anti-Submarine School, Portland, will assume command on Monday of the destroyer Scotsman, one of the emergency destroyers at Devonport. Lieut.-Comdr. Buchanan graduated at the Staff College in 1934. He went to sea as midshipman, R.A.N., in January, 1921. There have been several examples since the War of ships of the Imperial Navy being commanded by Australian officers serving on the interchange plan.

HOWARD-CROCKETT PRIZE

An Eardley Howard-Crockett Prize has been awarded to Cadet J. R. Carden, who passed out of H.M.S. Frobenius in December last. This prize is awarded to naval cadets each year for qualities of leadership and good example. It commemorates Lieutenant Eardley Howard-Crockett, R.N., killed in South Africa in 1920, and his father, Major W. S. Eardley-Howard, 28th Punjabis, who died in India in 1910.

TRAVELLING CONCESSIONS

The railway companies concerned have now agreed to extend the scope of the travelling concessions for reserve personnel announced last year to include the personnel of all Naval Reserve Forces while under training or serving in the Royal Navy. The companies have also agreed that the concessions may temporarily be made available to the wives and families of all Naval Reserve personnel during service, as distinct from training, in the Royal Navy.

STORE DEPARTMENT CHANGES

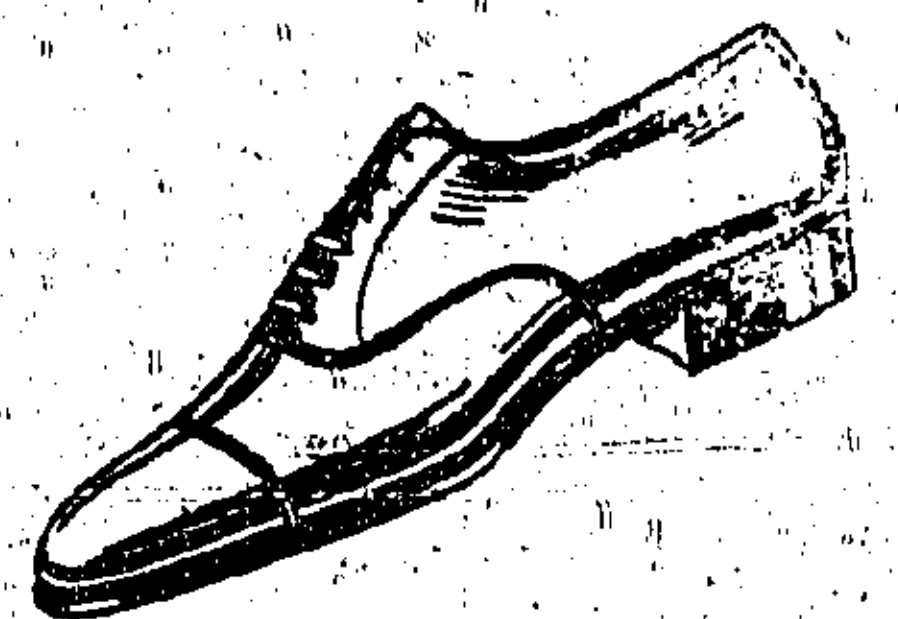

The following appointments as Inspectors of Storehousemen are notified in Fleet Orders:—
Mr. C. H. Hart, Gibraltar Dockyard; Mr. F. J. Noonan, Sheerness Dockyard; Mr. S. F. Barrett, R.N. Yard, Trincomalee; Mr. E. T. M. Geary, Bermuda Dockyard; Mr. F. W. Allen, Hong Kong Dockyard; Mr. H. J. N. Burrows (acting), Simonstown Dockyard; and Mr. J. H. Cutler (acting), Port Said temporarily.

MOVEMENTS OF SHIPS

Daring and Duncan arrived Singapore (Jan. 9).
Galatia arrived Alexandria (Jan. 6).
Jasper left Dover (Jan. 9).
Lowestoft left Labuan and arrived Jesselton (Jan. 9).

NORTH CHINA ICE-BOUND

Great Danger To Shipping

Tientsin, Feb. 5.
Chefoo and other North China ports are suffering from the worst ice blockade in nineteen years which is seriously hampering and endangering coastwise shipping.

Many vessels have limped to Shanghai with hulls damaged by ice-floes while others are ice-bound between Taku and Chefoo. The ice is fourteen inches thick in Chefoo harbour on which hickshaws, bicycles and horses are plying.

The s.s. Chekiang which reached Shanghai after an adventurous voyage from Chefoo reported encountering ice as high as the main deck.

SANCTIONS—AND THEN?

Five years ago at the Royal Albert Hall, London, three past and present Prime Ministers of Great Britain laid stress on obligations of honour under the Covenant of the League of Nations. It was then held that, as a matter of course, nations should keep faith with each other, and that the pledges given by the Members of the League should be honourably fulfilled.

During the present international crisis, the opponents of the League have been more vociferous than ever. Some have spoken as if such pledges no longer existed, and in other quarters the atmosphere has been filled with "ifs" and "buts" in derogation of obvious duty. Fortunately, in spite of tremendous odds in securing collective action the League has shown that on great occasions it can still function. The League is standing out for international good faith, which transcends in importance the interests of any individual country.

But sanctions are only a means to an end. That end is to ensure that the War is stopped as quickly as possible, and that aggression shall not pay. When it is accepted that all grievances must be brought to the League and not fought out on the field, the next step is to investigate and if necessary remove those grievances.

It has been charged against the League that it stands for the maintenance of things as they are, to the gain of the satisfied, and the loss of the unsatisfied countries. The world does not stand still, and the existing "status quo" is bound sooner or later to clash with altered political and economic facts.

The problem then is to devise means for effecting a change through peaceful methods. Violence is precluded not only by the Covenant, but by the Peace Pact of Paris. We have a skeleton machinery for peaceful change in Article XIX of the Covenant, which provides for the revision of treaties no longer adapted to actual conditions.

There is a tremendous task to be undertaken. Beside it the Italo-Abyssinian conflict may eventually appear comparatively insignificant. But nothing can be done without good faith.

SITUATION IN CHINA

Questions Raised In Commons

London, Feb. 4.
Replying to questions in the House of Commons to-day regarding the situation in China, Mr. Anthony Eden, the Foreign Secretary, briefly recalled the establishment of the Hopei-Chanhai Political Council and the administration of the demilitarized zone in north-east Hopei by the autonomous Council.

The Minister added that so far as he was aware British interests in North China had not been materially affected. Meanwhile, he said, it had been reported that the Japanese Government had accepted the Chinese Government's invitation to discuss outstanding points of political and economic difference. There was good reason to hope an effort would be made to regularize this position through diplomatic channels.

Mr. A. E. L. Chorlton, (U.) asked whether there had been any report on the relations existing between the Shanghai Japanese and the Shanghai Municipal Council. Mr. Eden informed the House that several reports had been received on current events, showing there was a demand in certain Japanese quarters in Shanghai for increased representation on the Municipal Council.

MORE FRICTION WITH SOVIET

Charge Of Inciting Troops To Mutiny

Changchun, Feb. 5.
Intense bitterness has been aroused here as a result of the refusal of the Soviet authorities to extradite the Manchukuo troops who mutinied at the eastern frontier north of Sulfenho on January 30, resisted a Japanese-Manchukuo punitive expedition and subsequently entered Soviet territory where they were disarmed and interned.

The Soviet authorities contend that the insurgents were political refugees, but the Manchukuo Foreign Office describes them as murderers, plunderers and kidnappers, and alleges that the Soviet authorities have been fomenting dissatisfaction among the Manchukuo troops by trying to communise them and frustrating attempts to demarcate the Soviet-Manchukuo boundary, thus preventing incidents.

Meanwhile the Kwantung Army in a statement says that it possesses incontrovertible proof that the mutineers had Soviet assistance.

BORDER INCIDENTS

Peiping, Feb. 5.
Unless something is done to remedy the situation along the frontier between Manchukuo and Outer Mongolia, the military authorities of Japan and Manchukuo will have to take decisive steps in dealing with the Outer Mongolians, who are charged with invading Manchukuo, according to Japanese reports.

Until now, the Kwantung Army has been watching developments calmly, but the point has been reached where Manchukuo cannot tolerate further incidents. One more incident, continues the report, may prompt the Japanese and Manchukuo military authorities, who are jointly responsible for the defence of Manchukuo, to act in a manner that will effectively prevent further clashes.

The military authorities in Tokyo are said to be receiving detailed reports from the Kwantung Army from time to time on the border situation and are watching developments closely.

FIERCE BLIZZARD IN CENTRAL JAPAN

Tokyo, Feb. 5.
The heaviest blizzard for half a century hit Central Japan at noon yesterday and continued all night long. Ten inches of snow fell, putting electric trains, municipal trams and motor-cars out of commission.

The tramcar service was still suspended at 10.30 a.m. Taxis were very few, but the electric train system was partially restored, though the time-tables were out of gear.

The weather was so severe last night that many theatres and cinemas were turned into hotels, the audiences staying in them all night long.

Berlin, Feb. 4.
The widespread popularity of Shakespeare's plays in Germany, indicated by the numerous performances given each year, has now been thrown into prominence by the controversy going on as to whether the translation by Schlegel-Tieck, or the more modern translation of Bothe is to be preferred. It is held in some circles that the translation by Bothe is more suited to the contemporary stage, because it is nearer to the vernacular of to-day.

Mechanisation of the Army.

Good-bye, Horse Gunners!

(The few remaining Horse Artillery Batteries are shortly to be mechanised).

Many a veteran's head will shake and many a heart be sore

To hear the news that the R.H.A. is the R.H.A. no more:

The galloping guns that made the pride of many a gallant tale,

That leapt to the tug of a six-horse team, will roll in a tractor's trail!

Nobody rode as they could ride, the man and the mount as one,

And whosoever a horse could go, there could they take the gun;

One pace only for all they did, was rapid enough-top speed,

Till they stood and fired, while a gun was left, in the hour of deadly need.

Sad young driver, hang up your whip, and bid good-bye to your nags,

Grow wise in the ways of a dead machine that is groomed with oily rags;

The spur you polished so oft and well unbuckle from off your heel,

And thank your stars if your bridle-hand is apt for the steering-wheel.

But those who sat in your saddle once, now stiff in the arm-chair,

Are glad they haven't your change to make, your drop in the world to share,

And when, as the veterans love to do, of their bravest days they dream,

They'll thrill to think of a gun that bounds on the heels of a racing team.

SINO-JAPANESE RELATIONS

Tokyo War Office In Conference

Shanghai, Feb. 5.
As a result of the reports of Japanese army general staff representatives who have visited China in recent months, the Tokyo War Office is holding a conference on policy towards China at which are represented the various military offices in China. Among those who came home for the parley is Major-General Rensuke Isogai, Military Attaché at the Japanese Embassy in Shanghai.

According to the Tokyo Jiji, the following topics are being discussed:

1. How can the causes of anti-Japanese agitation in China be exterminated?
2. What policy should be adopted toward the new administration in North China?
3. What attitude should be taken toward the proposed Nanking conference for the adjustment of Sino-Japanese relations?
4. What policies should be pursued regarding Outer Mongolia and China's other frontier regions?

Colonel Hiroshi Nemoto, chief of the press section of the War Office, reported to high military officials at the War Minister's official residence on Friday afternoon regarding his recent inspection tour of China and Manchukuo.

SINO-JAPANESE AMBASSADORS

Nanking, Feb. 5.
Mr. Hsu Shih-yin, newly-appointed Chinese Ambassador to Japan, is due here on February 10 from Shanghai to receive instructions from the Central authorities and will proceed to Japan to assume his new post at the end of this month.

Information from diplomatic circles reports that Mr. Arita, the newly-appointed Japanese Ambassador to China, will proceed to Nanking about February 20 succeeding Central News.

Minister Dr. Goheen has now taken the matter into his hands, and has sent a questionnaire to the leading men and women of the German literary and theatrical world, asking them which translation they think best suited and why. After having received the answers, the Minister will end the controversy by deciding which translation is to be used in the future.

DEMAND FOR ACTION

Tsunoda Incident

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, Feb. 5.
A demand that the Chinese authorities manifest sincerity concerning the recent assassination of a Japanese consular policeman by effecting an early arrest of the culprit was presented by Mr. Chichiro Harada, Japanese consul-general in Swatow, to the Chinese authorities. It is authoritatively revealed.

The Japanese official is understood to have further warned the Chinese that the allegedly insincere attitude taken by the local officials with regard to the untoward incident is causing considerable apprehension over the safety of Japanese residents in the locality.

The renewed warning is reported to have followed a notification by the local authorities in reply to the representations lodged by Consul-General Harada following the death of Consular Police Susumu Tsunoda on January 21.

The Chinese notification is understood to have pointed out that what had been established by the Chinese investigation into the murder only indicated that a Chinese patrol man had found the Japanese plain-clothes policeman on the ground but saw nothing of the actual outrage. The inhabitants in the vicinity, moreover, heard no shot nor any noise on the occasion.

UNREST IN DAMASCUS

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Jerusalem, Feb. 4.
Although no new disturbances occurred in the last few days, and to all outward appearances order prevails in the streets of Damascus and Aleppo, the situation is nevertheless in a state of high tension. The General Strike, which has now lasted for 17 days, has brought all trade to a standstill. Despite the appeal of the Arab leader to open shops again, it is feared that the Strike might still last another week.

Increasing bitterness prevails amongst the greater part of the population, not only against the French who are said to make use of the too treaty of the Mayot in exercising their mandate, but also against the Premier, Radhakrishnan, protected by the French.

GRAND FASCIST COUNCIL DECIDES TO CARRY ON THE WAR IN AFRICA

Heartened By Recent Successes

Mussolini Congratulates Departing Warriors

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Rome, February 5.

That Italy will unswervingly pursue her aims in East Africa until final victory is achieved, was the substance of the decisions taken by the Grand Fascist Council in the course of the meeting on Tuesday night, which lasted until the early hours of Thursday. According to the official communiqué, Duce continued his report on the military and political situation and the Council subsequently adopted the following resolution:

"After examining the political events of last December, the Grand Fascist Council found that its attitude, which had been largely determined by the temporary reserve towards the Franco-British Peace Plan, has been fully justified. The Council considers the recent victories of the Italian troops on the Eritrean and Somali fronts to constitute decisive factors in the present situation. The Council therefore reiterates its decision to attain those aims for which military efforts have been undertaken. It is convinced that this spirit conforms with the spirit of the troops fighting at the front as well as to the wishes of the Italian people."

The Council then went on to examine the domestic situation, existing in the third month of the economic stage. After paying due tribute to the calm and admirable resistance offered by the Italian nation which stands united in the ranks of Litorio, the Council drew up general schemes of Italian counter-measures in the case of further aggravation of the sanctions.

The Finance Minister then stressed the necessity of organising the foreign trade through strictly regulated channels. At his suggestion the Council adopted the resolution stating that the exchange of goods with foreign countries constitutes the function of public interest justifying direct control by a co-operative state.

CIANO GREETED

At the close of the meeting Duce presented his heartfelt greetings and wishes to his son-in-law Count Ciano, who was returning to East Africa to resume command of his air squadron, as well as to the Secretary-General of the Fascist Party, Starace, who was going to East Africa to take over command of a division of Black-shirts, and to Starace's successor Farinacci, who volunteered for service in the East Africa air force.—Transocean News Service.

IL DUCE WARNS GREECE

Athens, Feb. 5.

"Greece should not forget that we are neighbours and that our harbours face one another," said Mussolini in an interview published in the "Altera Gnomi" where the Duce utters a solemn warning against the consequences of the sanctions measures and emphasises that Greece is quite able to follow the example of certain South American states in making exceptions regarding the application of sanctions.

"Although Greece has a friendship agreement with Italy, continued Mussolini, she felt obliged to follow the League of Nations and English Imperialism. I will not start any new war—one is enough for me—but I have a watchful eye on England which is seeking war and preparing for war. If war should break out, Greece will be in a precarious predicament. But until then we shall remain friends."—Transocean News Service.

RAS DESTA'S DEFEAT EXPLAINED

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Stockholm, Feb. 5.

A letter from a Swedish doctor at Addis Ababa, who is with the Swedish Red Cross, was published by the "Göteborgs Tidning," and the writer speaks about the causes of Ras Desta's recent defeat on the south front.

Sickness and shortage of food are declared to be the chief forces breaking the Abyssinian resistance, while 12,000 deserters left Ras Desta within ten days and 3,000 fell sick.

The rainy season has already begun and dysentery and malaria are the chief illnesses. The Italians attacked with six army corps.

The letter closes by saying that around Neghelli many places are excellently suited for aerodromes.—Transocean News Service.

BORAH TO RUN FOR PRESIDENCY

Washington, Feb. 4.

Senator William Borah, the Western political "strong man" of the Republican Party, has announced that he will definitely stand in the forthcoming presidential election.

Senator Borah, whose home state is Idaho, and whose political headquarters is ordinarily at Boise, is one of the most influential men in the Republican Party and carries a tremendous following throughout the West and Middle West. It is even expected that his candidature may compel a strong following from the ordinarily solid Democrats of the southern states.

He has this advantage over any Democratic candidate, that there is no other outstanding Republican likely to enter the field, and there is therefore little likelihood of a party vote being split.—Reuter.

Paris, Feb. 5.

Foreign Minister Sarraut, for the first time since his tenure of office, conversed with the Italian Ambassador to France, Cerutti. Sarraut is said to have informed the Italian envoy as to the outcome of his conversations with the representatives of the various Central European statesmen, in order, according to the semi-official news agency, to prove "to Mussolini that no discussions are taking place where Italy is excluded, and that no treaty will be concluded with countries in which Italy is interested without previous consultations with that country."—Transocean News Service.

SILVER MARKET VERY CALM

Forward Dealings Resumed

London, Feb. 5. "Not a ripple," said a leading banker to Reuter, describing the calmness of the silver market resuming forward silver dealings. The resumption is wholeheartedly welcomed.

No figures are available of the Indian speculative position which is now liquidated but everywhere it is described as colossal, constituting a daily menace to the market in the past two months. Financiers believe that the Indian dealers will from now on be more cautious and that transactions will only be with the reputable London banks.

Thus silver seems likely to remain stable around the present price unless America recommences buying, of which there is no sign at present.—Reuter.

MEAT MARKET STRIKE

Dramatic Move At Night

London, Feb. 5.

A dramatic move to ensure that London would not be meatless was taken during the night. While a strong guard of pickets kept watch at Smithfield market, meat loaded in lorries and gold storage deposits situated in the dockland area were distributed at various points in the suburbs at which the local retailers drew supplies.

Strike pickets are on duty at the depots, but no hostile demonstrations have occurred. Meanwhile six hundred policemen have been drafted in Central London as a precautionary measure against any possible trouble in the Smithfield market. During the night an attempt was made to remove a vanload of meat from the market, but the move was frustrated by the strikers.

FRENCH ELECTORAL LAW MODIFICATION

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Paris, Feb. 5.

A modification of the electoral law and the introduction of a system of proportional representation was decided upon in principle by 347 votes to 176 by the Chamber on Tuesday.

The Committee which will elaborate the new law will meet in the next few days. It is, however, considered doubtful whether it will be possible to pass the new law in time for its application during the next election, even if the majority in the Chamber should definitely approve of the stipulations elaborated by the Committee, since the Senate whose majority has so far opposed a proportional representation is expected to continue its resistance against a modification of the law.—Transocean News Service.

NO CHANGE IN AUSTRIA

Starhemberg Assures Flandin

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Paris, Feb. 5.

That the Austrian regime will not be changed without the previous understanding with the Little Entente—such is said to have been the understanding or assurance given by Prince von Starhemberg to Foreign Minister Flandin in the course of Tuesday's interview between the two statesmen, according to agency radio, which apparently derives its information from official sources.

The same agency's diplomatic correspondent states there is no longer any question of Soviet Russia becoming one of the guarantors of Austria's independence and that the conclusion of the Danubian Pact at the present appears to be increasingly improbable.

The correspondent adds that efforts will consequently be made to bring about an agreement between the interested powers on the basis of Article 16 of the Covenant, which it is proposed to apply henceforth in the case of attack on Austria, either "from the outside or from within."

"Le Journal" asserts that the Austrian Pretender, Archduke Otto will arrive in Paris on Wednesday and will spend several days in the French capital. Prince von Starhemberg, however, so the paper adds, does not intend to enter into official negotiations or even semi-official communications with the Archduke since the Austrian Vice-Chancellor has given it to be understood that notwithstanding his personal convictions as to restoration of the monarchy, he was not desirous of participating in any action likely to lead to untoward consequences to his country.—Transocean News Service.

At yesterday's meeting Sir Harry MacGowan, Chairman of Imperial Chemical Industries gave evidence and said that his firm had only a little interest in the manufacture of arms, but the resources of Imperial Chemical Industries could be utilised as potential manufacturer of arms and placed in the hands of a nation.

He added that any first class nation must have to be fully equipped and well organised in chemical industries such as the Imperial Chemical Industries can offer.—Reuter's Bulletin Service.

FRANKFURTER ADMITS MURDER CRIME

Great Indignation Felt In Germany

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Davos, February 5.

The Jewish medical student David Frankfurter, who shot and killed Wilhelm Gustloff, leader of the Swiss Regional Group of the German National Socialist Party, has been questioned by the examining magistrate to whom he admitted that he had come to Davos merely for the purpose of murdering Gustloff, although he did not know the latter personally, nor had he ever seen him before in his life.

Frankfurter stated that he was born in Yugoslavia and was the son of a rabbi, and had since 1929 studied medicine at the German Universities at Leipzig and Frankfurt, but failed to pass the intermediate examinations, and was now studying at the Berne University in Switzerland.

The news of the murder caused dismay among the Germans living in Switzerland especially since the Marxist and Left Radical Swiss press had carried on for some time a violent agitation against Gustloff, demanding his expulsion from Switzerland.

It is, however, noteworthy that the Chief of the Swiss Federal Police department, Baumann, had only recently attested the correctness of Gustloff's activities in Switzerland.—Transocean News Service.

SHIPBUILDING IN THE WORLD

London, Feb. 5. New tonnage launched throughout the world in 1935 totalled 1,802,080 and exceeded the total of the previous year by 34.8 per cent.

On January 1, of the current year the work in hand in British shipyards totalled 743,086 tons which is the largest quarterly figure recorded for five years. The British total represented an increase on the previous year of 49,134 tons. As many new orders were placed in the latter part of 1935, there is every prospect that British yards will be fairly busy throughout the current year.

Germany is now second on the list in Britain in shipbuilding production, followed by Japan, Denmark and France.—British Wireless.

CONTROVERSY ABOUT A STATUE

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright).)

Vienna, Feb. 4.

The decision of the city of Prague after the recent visit of the Austrian Federal Chancellor von Schuschnigg, to present Austria with the statue of Radetzki, erected there in pre-war days, now seems to be somewhat premature. The statue does not, as was found out now, belong to Prague, but to the Czechoslovakian State. Negotiations are now going on between Czechoslovakia and Austria, the former having demanded something in return. This latest turn of the Austro-Czechoslovakian amity gives rise to somewhat caustic comments in political circles here.—Transocean News Service.

"C" Company Wins Martin Cup

Some excellent bouts were witnessed at Shamshui last night when the 2nd Battalion, The East Lancashire Regiment held the Final of the Inter-Company Boxing Competition for the Martin Cup.

HQ Wing, holders of the Championship in 1935, were not successful last night and lost by the very narrow margin of but a single point to the "C" Company. "C" Company gained 14 points to HQ Wing's 13.

There were altogether nine bouts on the card, and only two ended by the short route, both contests being ended in the second round.

The following were the results:-

RUGBY TRIAL

Good Form Shown

A trial rugby encounter in preparation for the return match against the New Zealand Universities fifteen on February 21, was played between "Probable" and "Possible" teams on the Club ground yesterday when some fast and interesting rugby was witnessed. The main feature of the game was the brilliant all round exhibition given by Fusilier Floyd. He was the outstanding player on the field—his accurate passing and handling and speed were perfect, entrancing the spectators throughout and his four touch-downs were "beauties."

The teams lined up as follows:
Probable—L. G. Robertson: Fus. Floyd, Surg. Lt. Benson, P. C. Frost, H. R. McGilchrist: A. H. R. Butcher, J. L. Bonnar: Lt. Robinson, W. E. Peers, Lieut. Lincoln, A. F. Walken, Cpl. Cullinan, Fus. Morgan, Capt. Gillespie, L/Cpl. Harrison.

Possible—Fus. Preece: Fus. Barry, R. H. Griffiths, Gallagher, Lieut. St. Clair Ford, J. Hutchison, Lieut. Hamilton: E. P. Humphreys, G. S. Chambers, Lieut. Harrison, A. B. Woodman, S. H. Garrod, Lieut. Chapman, F. J. McGugan, M. C. Scott.

SHORTHANDED

The Possible side fielded 13 men at the commencement of the game, Fus. Preece being late, the Probables had already registered a goal upon his arrival. Fus. Barry was brought in at the non-arrival of Lieut. Fraser who was first asked to play. He joined the side after the Probable team had added a further three points to their total. H. C. Meeks and M. S. Cummings were substituted by Gallagher and M. C. Scott respectively for the Possible team.

The Probables pressed hard and as the result of some fine play by Fus. Floyd, Lt. Benson, Frost and McGilchrist, they went further ahead by scoring another try without the other XV replying. After attacking for something the Possibles were rewarded with a goal. At the interval the score was: Probables-16 points (2 goals, 2 tries). Possibles-8 points (1 goal, 1 try).

PROBABLE TEAM MUCH SUPERIOR

At the resumption, the Probables were decidedly superior in all departments, although their opponents were playing their hardest, and notwithstanding the constant pressure, they fought untiringly. The final result was 31 points (3 goals, 1 drop goal, 4 tries) to 13 points (2 goals, 1 try) in favour of the Probables.

Fus. Floyd, Lt. Benson, Frost, McGilchrist were evidently playing with perfect understanding. Frost's handling was superb, while the drop goal he scored was very praiseworthy. Robertson, played his usual good game.

Lt. St. Clair Ford and Gallagher both played a sound game for the losers.

It is understood that the team will not be chosen until one or two more of these trial games have been played.

THE CUP AFFECTS LEAGUE GAMES

Danger of a Sunderland Slump

London, Jan. 14. This has been a week of mixed sentiments in the football world. Cup defeat for some clubs has been a bitter disappointment. In other cases, a cup win has made a world of difference. In other cases still, replays have muddled arrangements and ideas.

Sunderland have provided a sample of this. Praise cannot be denied the humble Second Division team for their achievement, but, obviously Sunderland can only blame themselves for losing their chance at Roker.

In the mood they developed at Hanley, Sunderland looked no championship side. Have the leaders gone stale? In the replay, the Wearers looked anything but the side I have seen playing brilliant football on other days this season.

It is remarkable that things always seem to go against a club as soon as "the double" is mentioned in their connection. Sunderland, however, have soon lost their chance of all that and now have the "advantage" over sides like Arsenal, Derby County and Huddersfield Town, who are still in the cup. It remains to be seen how the Sunderland side will recover from the cup disappointment.

At other places the cup, so far, has been brimful of cheer. Take Manchester City's case. Maine Road affairs were not cheerful at all before the tie with Portsmouth. The side had gained one point out of the previous six League games. Injuries were a big handicap.

An experimental side went out, gained a good victory and things have been given a decided fillip.

The reverse is the case with Portsmouth, the club defeated at Maine Road. I can imagine that Manager Jack Tinn and his directors have had their thinking caps on this week. A change in the Fratton policy may result.

DISAPPOINTMENT—AND RELIEF

This week's League football doesn't quite grip the imagination. The week's replays have cornered most of the discussion. The rest has been given over to consideration of the next round of the ties due on the 25th. Here goes for a look round.

I must start off with Aston Villa. Disappointment caused by the Villa's cup defeat is tempered by a measure of relief. Just one job now faces the club—to get clear of their present trouble.

I cannot honestly construe the position to be hopeful. At Preston the Villa will be able to bring in Gordon Hodgson, but not Charlie Phillips (under suspension). Gordon should bring punch and dash to the attack. Same is badly needed. But against Huddersfield Town last Saturday the team still showed many weak places.

Naturally the hopes and endeavours of Preston North End are now centred round the cup. Even so I think they will beat the Villa. Holdcroft, Gallimore and Lowe defensive stars who held up Everton should obviously make things awkward for the visiting forwards. I also note that Jimmy Maxwell, the Deepdale leader, is getting amongst the goals.

SUNDERLAND REACTION

Sunderland won't be sorry that a home game faces them. Even so I make Stoke City to carry a threat for the leaders. Sunderland will be glad to have done with the Potteries.

Sunderland seem to have gone stale. That sort of reaction is difficult to shake off. The next few weeks promise to be vital ones on Wearside.

The Potters, on the other hand, have won five and drawn one of their last six games. They must be marked dangerous. The Stoke defenders are all willing workers. The middle line is a mixture of qualities, and forwards like Stan Matthews, Fred Steele and Bobby Little mean that the Sunderland defence will have to step lively.

I think Sunderland will be the winners, but am quite prepared for a surprise.

Another game I have my eye on is the one at Derby. Huddersfield Town go to the Baseball Ground, which makes the game interesting. Both sides are doing their best to keep as near Sunderland as possible. One thing is sure, the game will be a valuable ground.

There shouldn't be much in The County's weakness these days.

lies in taking too many passes to achieve the objective. Neither are the Town forwards giving complete satisfaction. Charlie Luke is starting on the left. Some of the others are wayward. I'm taking the Rams.

PLAYERS NOT TO BLAME

There's a different atmosphere at Hillsborough for the game between the Wednesday and Arsenal compared with that surrounding last season's cup meeting.

Manager Billy Walker was telling me the other day that he can't drop any of his players. They're playing well enough but things aren't coming off.

Just the same I can't quite imagine the Wednesday repeating their cup success of last season or their win this season in the F.A. Charity Shield. A draw seems to fit the game.

Aston Villa being what they are and where they are, Everton (in nearly as bad a position) are escaping quite a lot of unwelcome publicity these days. At Goodison, however, they are up against quite a serious state of affairs.

A flirtation with a new defensive scheme largely contributed to the cup defeat. Forwards who will not play practical football are also causing trouble.

The popular feeling around Goodison has been turning towards the need for Dixie Dean's return. All that indicates unsettlement and concern. But Everton should beat Bolton Wanderers.

Over at Grimsby, Liverpool could turn by doing something on Huddell Park. The Town, though, have something to wipe out here. They lost 7-2 at Anfield early on this season.

The Anfield topic just now is Billy Harrell. The former Wolves leader did not come off with Everton. Will he hit it at Anfield? If he does then the Pool supporters will have something to crow about.

Grimsby Town, with eight points to show from the last five games, should be winners.

IN DANGER

A name on many lips when relegation affairs are mentioned is Blackburn Rovers. When Woodfolk think about the money that is being spent by some clubs they wonder if it is worth their while continuing the struggle. Struggle they will.

It will be spirit and not spending that will work out the Rovers' salvation. I admire that but cannot make the Rovers' chances, at West Bromwich of any rosy hue.

Manchester City have more to be pleased about now than for some time past. Charlie Rodger, the Scot from Ayr, made a bright debut. No more hesitation now about playing Owen at centre-forward. But I am not taking the City as winners at Birmingham.

One of the fancied sides to fall on the cup wayside was Brentford. No great worries arise at Griffin Park. The Bees' big job this season is to stay where they are. I make Middlesbrough's appearance at Brentford a likely chance for the home team. The Borough will have Ray Parkin, newly signed from Arsenal, at right half-back.

Leeds, United should not falter against Chelsea at Elland Road. Neither should Portsmouth with the Wolves at Fratton Park.

SUSSEX'S NEW CRICKET CAPTAIN

London, Jan. 14.

The committee of the Sussex County Cricket Club have invited A. J. Holmes to captain the side next summer.

Alan Meville, last season's captain, hopes to play on several occasions, but, owing to business reasons will be unable to turn out regularly.

H.K.F.A. COUNCIL DISCUSSIONS

Shield Semi-Final Draw Made

SECRETARY RESIGNS

The principle business before the Council Meeting of the Hong Kong Football Association, which met yesterday in the Association's room, at King's Building, was the draw for the semi-final rounds in both the Senior and Junior Shield competition.

There was a full complement of members present, with Col. H. C. Harrison in the chair, supported by Mr. Manning Ralton, Hon. Secretary.

The draw for the semi-finals to be contested on February 22, resulted as follows:—

SENIOR SHIELD

H. K. Club v. H. K. Police

(Navy ground)

S.C.A.A. "A" v. S.C.A.A. "B"

(Club ground)

JUNIOR SHIELD

East Lancashire v. Eastern

(Navy ground)

Royal Engineers v. Liga

Portuguesa (Club ground)

The venue for final of the Lai Wah Cup Competition which is to be played on March 8, was then decided, it being agreed that the match be played on the Socokunpo ground.

ST. JOHN AMBULANCE

A letter from Mr. T. A. Mitchell, of the Association, strongly recommending that every effort be made to inaugurate a competition for the St. John Ambulance Brigade, which was sorely in need for funds, was next brought up for discussion, it being stated by Mr. Ralton that Mr. Mitchell had suggested in his letter that two matches should be played a year, with this worthy object in view. The writer suggested a Chinese v. the Rest of the Colony clash as appropriate, and also a Chinese v. the Canton Chinese match.

One member suggested that proceeds for the St. John cause could easily be taken from the Sunday Herald Charity Cup.

Mr. Wong Ka Tsun said that with all due sympathies to Mr. Mitchell's proposal he wished to point out that both the South China and the Chinese Athletic Association's teams had very heavy league engagements before them, which was further encumbered by the fixtures they had to play in competitions outside the ordinary league programmes.

Furthermore word had been received by the Association from the Chinese National Federation that the Chinese trialists selected for the Berlin Olympic were expected to play games in the North during April. He was therefore forced to turn down the proposition.

The Chairman said that before Mr. Wong's proposal was passed he had a rider to add to the effect that the St. John cause would receive recognition from the Kowloon Cup proceeds, and also from the Association's funds. This was unanimously agreed upon.

MR. RALTON LEAVING

Just before the meeting adjourned Mr. Ralton sprang a surprise by stating that he had received sudden information by letter from Shanghai relating to his transfer to "Mentsin". He was therefore forced to tender his resignation but would be pleased to carry on the duties of his office until such time as a successor was appointed. In any case he was not leaving the Colony until the middle of March.

Regret was expressed by all, and the Chairman took the opportunity of thanking Mr. Ralton for the splendid work he had put in for the Association. Col. Harrison then intimated that he would have to call a special meeting to propose a successor, and stated that he would be pleased in the meanwhile to receive nominations from the members of the Council by letter.

A member suggested that a permanent and paid successor be employed, since the job entailed a lot of work. After further discussion it was proposed that a meeting be called for Wednesday, February 12, at 2.30 p.m. when the matter will be thoroughly thrashed out.

After the meeting adjourned, the Club drew first blood through Carey in the first half. A changing over with this slender lead, the Club kept the Police in their own half and following an attempted attack by the Club's forwards, Carey scored the second goal. The half with the Club on the offensive.

GALES WRECK PAVILION

M.C.C. Manawatu Match Off

Palmerston North, Feb. 5.

The two-day cricket match of the M.C.C. tourists in New Zealand which was commenced yesterday, was abandoned to-day owing to a severe thunderstorm during the night flooding the pavilion which was wrecked by the gales. The gear which was left there by the visitors was recovered in a sudden condition.

M.C.C. batted first yesterday, scoring 178, Hardstaff contributing 75 and Murdochson taking six wickets for 51.

Manawatu had scored 85 for 7 at the close.

BROADCAST OF CUP FINAL

London, Jan. 14.

The Football Association Council yesterday deferred consideration of permission to broadcast the running commentary on this year's Cup Final.

In the meantime, the council are to seek permission for re-diffusion of the running commentary on the grounds of such clubs as wish for it.

The amendment of Mr. W. Pickford, senior vice-president, which resulted in this decision, stated:—

"This matches one of the leading sporting events of the year and has a world-wide interest."

"At the same time, the clubs are by reason of the exceptional popularity, subject to a heavy loss of gate money, amounting in the case of the Football League clubs alone to some £25,000."

Permission to re-diffuse the commentary would help considerably to minimise these losses.

Mr. Sutcliffe further proposed that the right of the football associations to broadcast the final should be given to the Football Association, subject to the usual conditions.

BRONISLAW HUBERMAN TRAVELS BY THE "SPARROW-HAWK"

One of the passengers on board the Sparrow-Hawk, commanded by Mr. Parmentier, was greeted with joy by all music-loving Dutchmen on arrival at Amsterdam. It was the famous violinist Huberman who boarded the plane at Athens for his journey to Amsterdam.

"But I do speak a little Dutch," said Mr. Huberman when the representative of the K.L.M. said a few welcoming words in German and during the course of conversation this was fully borne out.

Mr. Huberman's secretary was to have accompanied him on his air trip from Athens, but as there was not sufficient accommodation available, she will travel by train instead.

RATING OF THE QUEEN MARY

Views Of United States Lines

London, Jan. 14.
The following statement on the rating of the ships in the North Atlantic has been made to The Times by Mr. S. J. Jackson, vice-president of the United States Lines:

With reference to the statement in The Times of January 13 regarding the status of the Queen Mary as a cabin ship, it might be pointed out that this vessel was not classed or designated a cabin liner by the Atlantic Conference, as this is a matter that is entirely in the hands of her owners. Regarding the possibility of serious consequences, even extending to an Atlantic rate war, resulting from the Cunard White Star's action in giving notice of withdrawal from the Atlantic Conference, opinion in shipping circles is divided. Some shipping experts consider that, as has happened before, effect will not be given to the notice and the difficulties will be overcome. Others, however, think that the position may not be so easily rectified.

Lines generally felt that there is strong reason for doubting if it is properly within the spirit of the conference to request a cabin grading for a ship designed as a de luxe first-class liner, second to none, three times as large as the largest ship, and at least six knots faster than the fastest ship heretofore operated as a cabin liner. Nevertheless, an owner, from deciding what designation his ship shall operate under. That regular rating procedure of conference was not followed and the award was given that the proper minimum rate for the Queen Mary, if operated as a cabin ship, would be $68, as compared with $70 if operated as a first-class ship, this $2 difference being the same as applying between any other identical ships, one operated as first-class and the other as cabin.

CABIN SERVICE

It is inferred that the Cunard White Star Line have given their notice of withdrawal from the conference with a view to upsetting this decision arrived at in strict accordance with conference procedure applied in regard to all other existing vessels. The Cunard White Star Line's object in designating the Queen Mary a cabin liner has been widely accepted as an attack directly against the United States Lines' steamers, Manhattan and Washington, which have proved extremely successful and popular since their entry into the cabin service after new and similar ships, for example, the Lafayette and Champlain and the Britannic and Georgia, had already done so. It is the feeling of the officials of the United States Lines that, in competition with their ships, such certain facts are ignored which should be borne in mind if the matter is to be viewed fairly.

These facts are:—

REICHSMARK QUOTATIONS

Berlin, Feb. 4.
The Reichsmark was quoted without guarantee at:—
New York 40.82
Paris 609
Amsterdam 59.29
London 12.315
Paris quoted the Pound Sterling at 75.06 to 75.09 and the USA Dollar at 13.635 to 13.64.
Transocean Xuo Min.

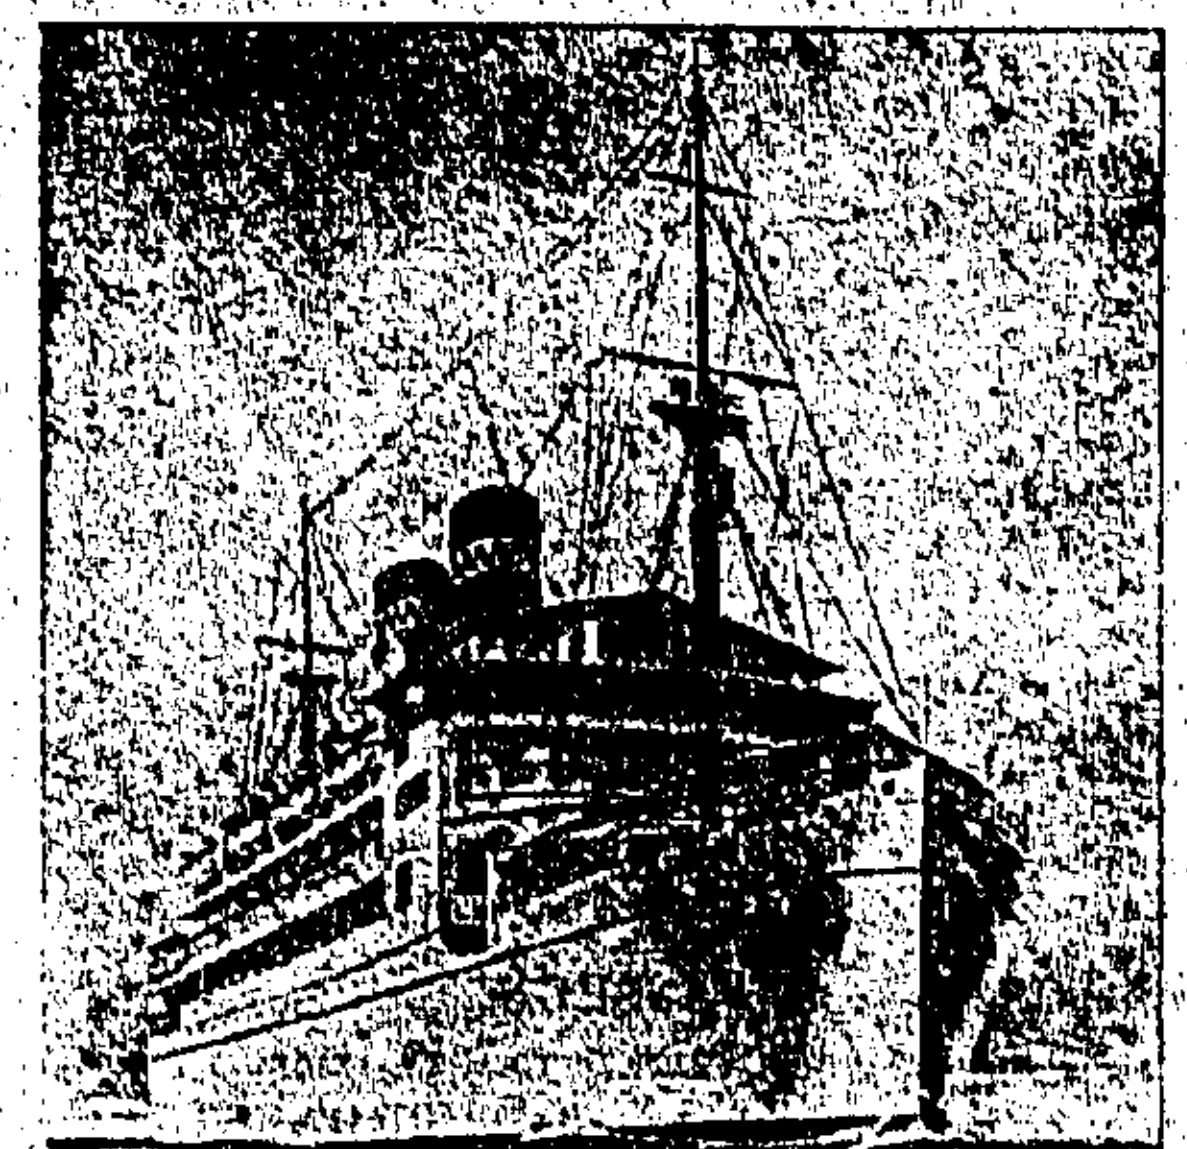

In view of the earlier steamers that had been designated cabin there was no reasonable alternative to classification of the Manhattan and Washington with similar ships and on a similar basis. The United States Lines did not come along with a ship outside the category of those in the cabin schedule and demand a cabin rate, as the Cunard White Star Line have done with the Queen Mary.

The United States Lines have rationalized their tonnage drastically, refitting in recent years the Republic, America, George Washington, and Lafayette, and their share of the total business is very much smaller than that to which in its very nature they might legitimately claim to be entitled.

About 80 per cent of the transatlantic business is American, and it is held by them to be natural and perfectly logical that when they have two very good American ships they should get considerable support—especially in view of the "Buy British" and other similar nationalistic movements in other countries.

In addition to whatever may be due to the growth of nationalism, there is the very important fact that the organization which previously was selling in the United States and Canada the accommodation of the ships of the White Star Line, Red Star Line, Atlantic Transport and United States Lines, to-day has only the latter, and its widespread efforts are, in effect, concentrated upon the Manhattan and Washington.

MODERN EXPRESS SERVICE

ROYAL DUTCH AIR LINE

A Record Year

The continued growth of the K.L.M.'s air service is shown in the figures for 1935, which are published to-day. The number of passengers carried on all services was 100,196. This is a record and is over 14,000 more than last year's figure which was the highest previously recorded. The European services carried nearly 96,000 passengers, the Far Eastern service Amsterdam-Batavia over 16,000, and the West-Indian service in South America over 2800.

In spite of the increased difficulties in international trade, freight carried during the year showed a large increase from just over one million kilograms in 1934 to over 1,320,000 kg. in 1935. The action of the Dutch Postal Authorities in deciding during the year, to send all letter mail by air, if time would be saved thereby, the mail carried on the European lines only showed an increase of over 65% on the figure for 1934.

The doubling of the Far Eastern service Amsterdam-Batavia into a twice weekly service in both directions, which was put into force in June last, by 34.8% parcel post by 13.3%, general freight by 38.3%, while passenger traffic on this line increased by over 75%.

KING GEORGE OF GREECE WELCOMES PASSENGERS

SYNAGOGUE FOR THE QUEEN MARY

First Ship In The World To Have One

London, Jan. 14. The Queen Mary, British superliner, is to be the first ship in the world to have a synagogue.

Other ships have rooms which are sometimes temporarily converted into synagogues, but in the Queen Mary the synagogue will be permanent, and the space will be used for no other purpose except Jewish religious worship.

Mr. C. J. Eprile, F.R.I.B.A., who has designed the temple, said to the Sunday Dispatch: "The synagogue will hold about 50 worshippers."

"It will be about 20 feet square, and, although in miniature, will be complete in every detail."

"The walls will be paneled in English oak and macassar, with inlaid ebony bandings. The pews will be in oak."

"Inscriptions in Hebrew will be inlaid in wooden letters round the top of the panelling. Special wood has been brought from the Dominions for this purpose."

"The ceiling of the synagogue will be in cerulean blue picked out in gold."

"The fittings will include a carved shulchan, or reading desk, and the Holy Ark in miniature, which will be made from oak, macassar and ebony."

THE SCROLL

"The ark contains the Scroll of the Law, which are the Five Books of Moses in the Old Testament, written by hand on parchment by the Jewish scribes. This task, by the way, they have to do from memory."

"The Queen Mary's engineers have arranged for the Jewish Natividad, or perpetual Light of Remembrance, to be lit electrically on a special circuit so that it will never go out. The fitting holding the light is to be in hand-wrought bronze."

"The temple is being arranged so that high festivals as well as ordinary sabbath services can be celebrated."

"The synagogue will be on 'B' deck amidships."

"The design has been passed by the Jewish council of Beth-din as well as the Cunard-White Star authorities."
